Dog Keeps Month-Long Vigil Over Dead Friend

By SANDY GREINER

Loyalty, even in death, is a term often heard, but seldom seen. But such loyalty can be found in the friendship of a dog and a horse.

It took the death of an old nameless horse to bring to light the unusual friendship between the horse and a dog named Canabus. Since the death of the twenty-year-old mare late last year, the dog had been keeping almost constant vigil over the dead animal's carcass.

The mare, and the dog, both belonged to the Tony T. Burrus family. The Burruses live northeast of Canyon on the family farm.

The rare friendship between the two animals began about five years ago when the family acquired a half German Shepherd, half Saint Bernard puppy. The puppy, rather than becoming the companion of one of the two Burrus children, chose the company of the old mare.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Burrus.

Burrus said he bought the horse about thirteen years ago as a pet for his children. But, he said the horse spent most of her time standing near the fence watching other horses.

"She was lonesome, and nearly starved to death, when she wouldn't come in for feed," said Burrus.

But the old mare's loneliness was soothed when the family acquired the pup. Canabus and the mare, which was never named, became inseparable.

Members of the Burrus family say that the pup followed the horse constantly, even into the pastures and fields. The pair ate together, and slept together.

Young Tony D. Burrus, now a student at West Texas State University, grew up with both animals. He recalls that the dog always walked under the horse, just fitting between the mare's legs.

A friend of the Burrus family said that the dog would not have anything to do with other dogs or any family members when the horse was around. And likewise with the horse. But strangely enough, the horse was frightened of other dogs.

The extraordinary friendship lasted about five years. The death of the mare on December 9th of last year, would have seemingly ended the relationship, but the dog refused to give up his friend.

"When the old mare died," said Burrus, "the dog got between me and the carcass when I tried to drag it off."

After some coaxing, Burrus managed to drag the horse out into a field some distance from the house. He said the dog walked slowly back to the house, with his head down — but in five minutes, left again to begin the Canyon Population Now At 10,000 Mark?

Lloyd Kurtz, right, joins Larry Hales in the sale ring Saturday night after the First National Bank of Canyon purchased Hales' grand champion steer during the junior livestock show here. Sale price of the 902-pound steer was $1.50 per pound.

Canyon with a current population of 10,700?

That's what initial and tentative figures formulated by a Amarillo Chamber of Commerce committee indicate.

City Manager George Loudder, who is a member of the chamber committee, said initial figuring for 1974 indicate Canyon's population could be as much as 10,754. That would be 2000 more than the population count indicated for 1973 and 2500 more than the U.S. Census showed for Canyon in 1970.

Loudder is, however, a bit skeptical about the preliminary figures, although he says Canyon's population may well be nearing the 10,000 mark.

Loudder said the committee will have to reassess the ratio it used to figure population of the city in an effort to come up with a more accurate count.

Using the figures and ratios provided by the committee, Canyon's city population would be right at 9000. Added to that figure would be nearly 1700 students living in dormitories on the West Texas State University campus.

Loudder said the 8333 figure for Canyon's 1970 official census population included the dormitory-dwelling students.

The ratio used by the committee to figure Canyon's population was based on a projected rate of 2.96 persons per residence in the city.

WT Courses Reflect U.S. Isolationism

What has been termed nationally as a movement by the American people toward isolationism in the foreign affairs area has impacted to an extent on course offerings at West Texas State University.

A national preoccupation with domestic affairs rather than the troubles of foreign nations may be the underlying reason political science courses at the university in the area of foreign studies are drawing fewer and fewer students.

Dr. Travis McBride, chairman of the political science department, said this week following registration at WTSU that enrollment in his department's international relations offerings has dwindled to almost nothing.

"For at least the past two years — and it may have started earlier — we have had difficulty in getting students to take our courses in international relations, comparative government, area studies and so on," he said. "We have had very good offerings in these areas."

But, due to declining interest in the courses "we have already cut offerings in international relations and comparative government to one-half what we were offering five years ago and we're still having difficulty getting a minimum enrollment of 10 in the classes," McBride said.

In the past, the department has

Housing Requests Now Come From Amarilloans

The fuel crisis has spawned new headaches for Roland Black, local chamber of commerce manager who is swamped twice a year with requests for housing information in Canyon.

Black, who says housing is still virtually unavailable for potential renters in Canyon, said just prior to the opening of the spring term at West Texas State University he received numerous phone calls and personal visits from students now living in Amarillo who want to live in Canyon.

Black said the students were apparently motivated by fears that with a shortage of gasoline they might not be able to make a daily drive from Amarillo to the city for classes.

"It started about two weeks ago," Black said of the upsurge in interest. "They said they were living in Amarillo and wanted to find a place in Canyon to live."

Black said he bases his assumption about the role of the fuel crisis on the fact that this is the first term he can remember when students from Amarillo were looking for local housing.

He said between 15 and 20 students either called his office or came by in person to seek housing information.

Usually, at the start of each semester at the university Black is swamped with letters and phone calls from persons living outside the Amarillo-Canyon area who seek housing information.

"The only thing I can figure is that it's the fuel crisis," he said.

Primarily, the students are looking for small

Livestock Show Prices Soar To New Heights

Sales at the Randall County Junior Livestock Show surpassed a 1973 record by more than $10,000 to make the '74 show a record sale that'll be hard to beat.

Sales totalled $40,000 for steers, swine and lambs shown by Randall County FFA and 4-H members last Friday and Saturday at the J.O. Parker Memorial Building.

Last year's sale, a record, netted bids totalling $29,000.

This year's top steer, a 902-pound steer shown by Larry Hales, brought $1.50 per pound for a total of $1353. Last year's grand champion was bid at $1.325 per pound for a total of $1253.

Steers this year brought a total of $14,898 compared to last year's total of $11,502.

The grand champion swine, shown by Tammy Tucek, brought $3.20 per pound for a total of $697.60. That far outstrips the bid price brought in 1973 for the grand champion. The grand champion last year brought $1.45 per pound for a total of $323.35.

Swine this year had a total bid price of $14,000 compared to a total bid price of $12,928 last year.

This year's top lamb, shown by Sara Hicks, brought $2.40 per pound for a total of $264. That compares to a price of $3.10 paid last year for the champion.

Lambs this year brought a total of $12,249 compared to a total of $5718 paid last year.

Xmas Payment Plan Not Exactly Legal

Some Randall County residents did their Christmas shopping on the easy-payment plan — but the plan isn't exactly sanctioned by law.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said this week his office has been flooded by merchants sporting handsful of hot checks, checks written before the Christmas holidays.

"The big bind is that since the last week in December through the present, we've filed 27 in county court," Dowlen said.

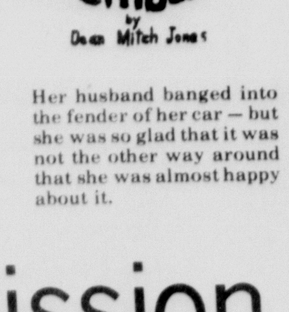

He said one store filed charges on 19 hot checks and still has about $2100 in hot checks yet to file. Another store has between $1300 and $1400 in hot checks to file.

The large number of hot checks coming into his office will force a change in handling the checks, according to Dowlen.

Most hot checks are filed on as misdemeanor offenses now, says Dowlen, but, depending on the amount of the check, some felony charges are filed.

The number of charges filed is really only the tip

Law-Making Powers Are Favored By Commission

County commissioners said Monday they support a proposed change in the Texas Constitution which would grant commissioners court ordinance-making powers.

Commissioners told The News they believe the power to pass ordinances would greatly aid the county in providing for orderly growth of rural areas, particularly between Canyon and Amarillo.

The revised constitution as presented by the Texas Constitution Revision Commission now under consideration in Austin convention would allow counties ordinance-making powers through two avenues.

One avenue would allow the county to pass a home-rule charter. The other would allow the county to assume ordinance-making powers without assuming the trapments of the home-rule charter.

"It's my feeling that I'd rather see us have the authority to make ordinances or enforce ordinances without assuming the full mandatory option under a home rule charter," said Commissioner Paul Lindsey. "We don't need to go that far. It would help us to have the power to pass ordinances for specific things, but it should not be mandatory."

Commissioners John Fulgenzi, Bill Butler and Jim Fletcher agreed with Lindsey's statements.

"If we go home rule, it (ordinance-making) would be mandatory," he said. "This other way, we'd be able to decide."

Lindsey said if the county were able to make ordinances, it would give the county a better opportunity to plan for orderly growth between Amarillo and Canyon, particularly in the myriad of developments which are being erected now.

Currently, commissioners have no power to make laws or enforce them.

Lindsey termed the commissioners' powers now as "limited."

Fletcher said commissioners' ability to govern development between Amarillo and Canyon would be an asset to both communities.

Commissioners are studying proposals right now in their weekly meetings which they must try to institute without the power to pass ordinances.

One is a specific itemization of regulations for construction of roads in rural developments. The regulations were drawn up by an Amarillo consulting firm for the county, but can be made mandatory for developers only through the county commissioners' power to accept or decline to accept development roads for county maintenance.

Another problem commissioners are faced with and which without ordinance-making power they are virtually powerless to enforce is the problem of bore-hole drilling for sewage disposal.

Commissioners studied the problem at length during the fall but have taken no action on the problem.

Under the CRC constitutional proposal now being considered by state legislators in Austin, ordinance-making power would be granted to the counties.

Section 4 of Article IX of the proposal expands the county's function as law-making body.

Paragraph (a) says: "The Legislature shall by law provide procedures by which any county with a population of not less than twenty-five thousand may adopt, amend or repeal a charter with the approval of a majority of qualified voters voting on the question. A charter election may be initiated by petition of the qualified voters of the county or Enrollment is down at West Texas State University but this is not the end of the world.

I had rather see WTSU strive for academic excellence than a high head count. I had much rather see WTSU graduates go places and accomplish things than to see us flood the market with diplomas.

A diploma can be purchased through a diploma mill. Getting an education requires good students, good faculty, adequate facilities and hard work by the people involved.

I'd rather see 5,000 students working toward becoming useful citizens than to see 15,000 here killing time.

Dr. Lloyd Watkins, our new president, intends to recruit the cream of the crop. I have faith that he will succeed.

Survival of the Panhandle as a viable economic force depends upon it.

Frank Blackburn and his staff are in the process of moving the library to its new quarters. Building this new facility was the first step in the direction I want WTSU to take.

Harvard was started as merely a library. An adequate library is the guts of any institution of learning whether it is a grade school or a university.

Now I'd like to see professional personnel in the library get more recognition — at least faculty status.

Our university would be a shambles without them.

American Legion Magazine this month has an article advocating solution of the energy crisis through use of heat from the Gulf Stream through a process known as thermocline.

Through this process, which I admit I only vaguely understand, cold water is pumped up from the depths and forced through a compartment while warm water from the Gulf Stream is pumped through the other side with a turbine in the middle.

Resulting cold steam turns the turbine and generates energy. The author points out that hydrogen gas can be manufactured on the spot and piped all over the country.

He says this process could supply 180 times the energy required by this country. The machinery to do this was ready as far back as 1929 but due to initial plant expense and I suspect opposition from large oil companies, it was never pursued.

The author points out that the process is feasible in all the tropical oceans of the world offering clean, unlimited energy.

It would enhance the marine ecology since food from the depths would be pumped up with the cold water supplying nourishment for ocean life upon which a hungry world is becoming more and more dependent.

If people of the world could forget war and work together this near utopia is within our grasp.

"What fools these mortals be."

There is growing evidence that the fuel shortage may, at least in part, indeed be contrived.

Electronics experts have testified that erasures on some of the controversial White House tapes was done deliberately by hand.

If this is true, then little can be said in defense of it.

I would have admired the President more if he had stood on executive privilege and refused to surrender the tapes.

If the electronics experts have told the truth, then Presidential Secretary Rosemary Wood, who said the erasures were accidental, is a liar.

How could such a credibility gap ever be bridged?

Buffs Take To Road Sat. For U. of Houston

West Texas State University's Buffaloes take a 7-2 season record and a three-game winning streak with them when they leave the friendly confines of Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum.

The Buffalo basketball team will take its first road trip of the season Saturday when it faces powerful University of Houston in Houston's Hofheinz Pavillion. The Buffaloes also face Pan American Monday on that same trip.

Coach Ron Ekker's Buffaloes will face four other opponents on the road before returning to Amarillo Feb. 7 against St. Louis in a Missouri Valley Conference contest.

The Buffs play at Tulsa Jan. 24 and meet Bradley Jan. 26 in a regionally televised contest. On the final swing of the six road games the Buffaloes play at Drake Jan. 31 and at Louisville Feb. 2.

West Texas closed its home stand by rolling past New Mexico Highlands, 96-65, Monday night in the most impressive offensive display of the season.

Junior college transfer Joe Cosey exploded with scoring and rebounding punch against the New Mexico club from Las Vegas. The 6-4 junior hit on 13 of 19 field goal efforts and nine of ten free throws for 35 points. He also pulled in 19 rebounds.

Cosey's point and rebound totals in that game are high for the Buffalo team this season.

Reginald Ramey, 6-8 sophomore post man and the team's leading scorer, hit 15 against Highlands. Hector Rodriguez came off the bench to can 11 points and pull in 10 rebounds and Howard Taylor added 10 points.

Ramey leads the team in scoring with a 17.4 average. Taylor is second with a 16.2 mark and Cosey's Monday night outburst pushed his scoring mark to 11.8 for the year.

Sophomore Dallas Smith, who had 10 rebounds Monday against Highlands, is scoring 9.2 points per game.

Cosey, despite playing guard, leads the club in that department — averaging nine missed shots per game. Ramey is pulling in 8.6 rebounds per game and Smith has an 8.4 average.

The Highlands offense managed to hurt West Texas State's defensive team average. The Cowboys are the second straight team to hit 65 points against the Buffaloes (North Texas State managed that total in a 67-65 loss Saturday night) and they are now giving up 56.2 points per game. That total still ranks the Buffs among the nation's top defensive average teams.

Houston's Cougars proved poor hosts last year as they handed the Buffaloes their worst loss in the school's history. Houston rolled to a 46-point win, 130-84.

That is the largest margin of defeat by a Buffalo team and also set a Houston school scoring mark.

Humane Society Hires Investigator

Randall County now has a Humane Society investigator.

Gene Morrison of Canyon said Monday he is a volunteer investigator for the Amarillo Humane Society.

As part of his job, Morrison will take area complaints on alleged cruelty to animals and check out the complaints for the society.

Morrison said his job is more to aid local residents than to badger people about animal care.

He said injured or hurt animals should be reported to the Canyon Police Department or Randall County Sheriff's office.

Fire Destroys Mobile Home

An Umbarger family of five is homeless this week after fire destroyed their mobile home Sunday afternoon.

The fire completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller. The Millers were gone with their three children when the fire broke out.

The cause of the blaze has not been determined. The Canyon Fire Department was called to assist the Umbarger units in fighting the fire.

A fund for the Millers has been set up at the First National Bank in Canyon.

Canyon firemen were called to another house fire earlier in the weekend. The fire, at the home of T.D. Tankersley, in Sherman Acres, caused only minor damage to a closet located behind the fireplace. The cause of the fire was believed to be a crack in the wall behind the fireplace.

City And School Board Posts Up For Grabs Again This Year

The mayor and two city commissioners and the president of the Canyon School Board and two other board members face re-election if they choose to run again in April.

Terms for Mayor Manly Bryan, and Commissioners Jim Christopher and H. R. Fulton are up this year.

Likewise, terms for School Board President Tom Keeling and members Ed Wieck and Roscoe Richardson are up this year.

City election will be held April 2 at the Canyon community center.

Final date for filing for candidacy for the city commission is March 4, according to City Manager George Loudder.

The School Board election will be April 6 with filing deadline March 6.

Candidates for both boards come under the requirements of the newly-passed Campaign Reporting Act. Information on candidate requirements are available at the city manager's office or at the superintendent of schools office.

City commissioners and candidates for the commission run on the place system with candidates filing for specific places on the board.

School board members run at large and board members are elected not on the place system. The three candidates who receive the largest number of votes during the election will be school board members.

Canyon board members discussed at length Tuesday night whether to change to a place system for their election. They decided to table any action on the plan until next year.

Gene Howe News

By TROYCE MULHERIN

SUNSHINE GREETINGS:

A COUPLE OF important dates for your calendars: Monday, January 28th, seven o'clock. Run, don't walk to Gene Howe school. Why? 'Cause students at our little school on the hill are brushing up on their various musical talents and plan to share same with us that evening. Remember that entertaining talent show our students put on last year? Well, this time around it is not a dyed-in-the-wool talent show — there will be no judges, no place ratings, etc. Just a fun night, musically inclined.

GENE HOWE'S MUSIC director, Margie Phillips, is working with our talented youngsters, and relates that they are all very excited about the upcoming Variety Night, and are happily practicing in preparation for same. They hope to have about one and a half hours of entertainment. Hopefully, the Variety Night will become an annual affair, involving as many of the youngsters as want to be involved. Plan to be there. Your enjoyment is guaranteed!

SUNDAY, JANUARY 27TH, is the other important date to jot down. The Canyon Band Parents Association is sponsoring a Bingo Night at Umbarger. Gather up your bingo-playing cronies and motor to the old school gym. Plan to be there at eight o'clock, 'cause that's when the action starts. Two dollars can be exchanged for twenty games of bingo. Twenty games are enough to keep one shuffling those little disks around for the entire evening.

THE BAND PARENTS will also have free popcorn for those inclined to munch while playing. Coffee, cokes, pie and cake will be available, too. Really eager eaters will appreciate the bake sale which will be going on all evening. Sounds like lots of fun. That's January 27th, the last Sunday of this month.

NOW, FOR THOSE who haven't got a 1974 calendar — and for those who have one, too, but not the band calendar — a few of these are available. One little ol' dollar will entitle you to this handy, dandy item. This green and white jewel lists birthdays, anniversaries, and days on which several organizations meet. (Also, leaves some room where owners can jot down their own activities on a day-to-day basis). Like the younger set says, "Neato!" Call Darlene Finke at 352-2971, and she will see that you get one of these calendars.

THE BAND PEOPLE have some of that lucious gift-wrapping paper and color-coordinated ribbon left over from their pre-Christmas sale. The paper comes in "all-occasion" colors — white, gold, silver, pretty pink, and a gold print. Same for the ribbon. If the paper and ribbon are available next year, the price might be higher, so why not stock up now. Might as well buy yourself or a friend one of the Vienna cookbooks, too. Why not? Good deal all the way around. Again, call Darlene.

IT WAS NUMBER eleven for Sheila Hicks on the 9th of January. As always, the weather was rather uncooperative, but did not cool the enthusiasm of the slumberless slumber party she tossed for several Gene Howe friends Friday night. A party is a party, and the dauntless darlings took an icy ride to the Johnny Hicks' home on Chapman Road to help with the celebrating and the eating and the game playing and the eating.

A HAPPY BIRTHDAY, too, to Mike Wilson, whose day was on the 14th. Two of the Langen menfolk are facing birthday acknowledging, too. Randy's day is on the 18th, and Philip's is on the 19th. Many more, gentlemen.

PRETTY CINDY TODD birthdayed on the 15th. Hope all your wishes come true, young lady! Cindy is the daughter of Arlean and F.P. Todd.

ANOTHER DATE FOR your band calendar: February 3. A Sunday afternoon, from one to six o'clock. Members of the Amarillo Federation of Women's Clubs are busily polishing their treasurers for a Hobby Show. The clubhouse will be filled with various and sundry prized collections; including, but not limited to, antiques. All types of personal collections and hobbies will be on display. Crafts included. Some of the goodies will be for sale and some will be there strictly for your looking enjoyment. The address is 2003 Civic Circle. A small admission charge of fifty cents will be made at the door.

MARLA AND MIKE Shadix have returned from an exciting skiing adventure at Breckenridge, Colorado. Plenty of snow fortunately cushioned the usual falls which plague novice skiers. Marla's mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Phillips, were sure glad to get the young couple back home safe and sound and nervously suggested that golfing is an admirable pastime — warmer weather, too.

IT IS TIME for boys basketball. The sixth grade team coached by George McCurry, who is assisted by Dave Miller, has started the season off admirably, what with a 38-1 win over St. Andrews and all.

THERE ARE THREE sixth grade teams. Euris Phipps and Bob Paris share coaching honors for one and Pete Wilson serves as coach for another.

WES BROMLEY, ASSISTED by Edgar Sellers, coaches one of the fifth grade teams and Ronnie Bailey coaches the other fifth grade team.

ROBERT CLARK IS coach for the fourth grade team. Leonard Schmidt coaches one of the third grade teams and Larry Brooks coaches the second team. Larry is assisted by Bob Morgan.

LOTS OF ENERGETIC action taking place on the courts. An eager parent, who would graciously volunteer to be team reporter, would be cherished forever. Simply call after the games, or on Sunday afternoons, with game results. Please? Thank you!

OVERHEARD: "FROM THE mouths of babes." Scene — around the dinner table. In defense of a hesitantly dieting dad, one youngster was heard to remark to an insisting mom, "Well, even fat people get hungry!" So true. So true.

WITH REGARDS TO last week's crummy weather, one thinking youngster was heard confiding in his mom that, "God must have got His chemicals mixed up." (It wasn't really snow - not true sleet — nor honest-to-goodness rain falling from the skies that prompted this remark).

ANYONE WISHING TO possess a fine white rat, male type, pet type, may feel free to call Kaki at 352-6053. Freebies. Sure make good pets. Really. Truly.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall.

Troyce — 352-6053

Board Takes Dark Stand On Changing School Hours

Canyon School Board members reaffirmed their stand on school times under daylight savings time during regular session Tuesday night.

Reporting numerous complaints from parents, board members discussed for their second consecutive meeting whether to change the school times so children might go to school during daylight hours.

Mrs. La Nalle Johnigan of Canyon appeared before the board to complain of the early morning darkness and said she nearly ran over three children one day last week due to the darkness.

Board members explained that their original decision to leave school hours as they have been — with school starting at 8:30 a.m. — was based on reports from school principals that to change the hours would cause problems with obtaining school bus drivers and would cause numerous problems for working mothers.

The board also reaffirmed its position on annexation of land by the Amarillo School District when an Amarillo developer and husband and wife living in South Amarillo appeared before the board.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sebastian, who live in a 150-acre tract which its developer is trying to have annexed by Amarillo, asked the board for justification for not allowing the annexation to take place.

Tom Keeling, board president, reiterated that the Canyon board will not consider approving a petition for annexation unless the local district receives favorable financial return on the deal.

Board members decided to move two portable classrooms to the Gene Howe Elementary School in South Amarillo to allow class space for another fifth grade class.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said the fifth grades at the school are overcrowded. He also recommended — and it was approved — the hiring of a new fifth grade teacher for the school.

The board spent a good portion of its time considering whether to change the method of election of school board members from the current at large system to a place system election.

At one point the board entertained a motion that the method be changed to the place system, but the motion was withdrawn.

Under the current system school board candidates run at large and the top vote getters are named to the board.

Under the place system, candidates would run for specific slots on the board and the winner of each place election would be named to the board.

An opinion rendered by Elton Cox, retained by the board as attorney, states that he feels the place system method would be more democratic.

But, board members were hesitant to change. Jacobs pointed out that under the place system the board could expect to have to finance run-off elections.

The matter was tabled until next year when a survey of how other school districts elect their officials should be available.

Following their scheduled business, board members went into executive session to consider renewing contracts with administrative, supervisory and counselling personnel. No action was taken on the contracts.

Federal Meddling Reproved; Federal Funding Approved

Randall County commissioners criticized early in their Monday afternoon meeting the federal goverentent's encroachment in local law enforcement affairs, but later in the meeting approved purchase of new law communication equipment for which the feds will supply the majority of funding.

Commissioners voted to join with other Panhandle counties and cities in a joint effort to prevent crime, a program funded at the 75 per cent level by the federal government, but only after nearly 30 minutes of discussion with Sheriff Cliff Longest and a Panhandle Regional Planning Commission criminal justice coordinator.

They readily accepted a contract with the PRPC for $43,000 in new communications equipment — everything from walkie-talkies to a 250-foot radio tower — with the county paying only a fourth of the costs, or $10,000.

John Scott, criminal justice coordinator for the PRPC, was closely questioned regarding a resolution commissioners were asked to approve joining in the crime prevention program. Scott explained that in the Panhandle area the program calls for hiring of one policeman to man a special unit to travel through rural areas and cities informing the public about crime prevention measures.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi was chief critic of the federal program, stressing he hates to continually "look to the government" for solutions to local problems.

Commissioner Paul Lindsey also decried the apparent lack of solutions to local problems other than through federal funding.

Longest called the program an aid to law enforcement and said to provide the same service he would have to hire an extra full-time deputy.

The program will continue for two years under federal funding and then will be up for review, according to Scott. If the program is found ineffective it will not be continued.

Following their discussion of the crime prevention program, commissioners approved an agreement for purchase of $43,377 in communications equipment for the sheriff's office.

The equipment is available through the PRPC and is part of a larger package of equipment for all Panhandle law enforcement agencies.

The county agreed to pay its share of the costs, $10,898.

In other business Monday, commissioners:

— passed a resolution accepting with other Panhandle counties in a water and sewage study plan through the PRPC.

— jointly appointed Dr. John Green, Mrs. Ples Harper and Dr. Duane Guy as members of a bicentennial committee for the city and county.

— ordered a 5.5 per cent pay hike for Dist. Atty. George Dowlen, whose salary is now paid by the state. Dowlen receives $1291 per month from the state, a sum which was $9 under the salary previously paid him by the county.

— appointed Carolyn Farquhar, Mrs. Edna Minor and Mrs. Bob Gleason all of Amarillo to serve on the county's grievance committee for employees.

WTSU Foundation Gets $1,000 Grant

West Texas State University Foundation has received a $1,000 "Boys Ranch" grant from Mrs. S.L. Lockhart of Big Spring.

"Any Boys Ranch student with a good academic record and a desire to attend West Texas State University," is eligible for scholarships from this fund, according to Amarillo attorney Connally Lockhart.

Mrs. Lockhart, 84, is the mother of Connally and Warren Lockhart, both former West Texas State students.

Connally received the Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the university in 1943 and the Master of Business Administration in 1947.

He is currently a member of the West Texas Ex-Students, Inc. Board of Directors and the WTSU Foundation.

Warren, who received the Bachelor of Science degree, played football for the Buffaloes from 1939-1941.

He is a resident of Austin.

Persons interested in applying for the "Boys Ranch" scholarships, or in contributing to the Foundation grant may contact Dr. Jack Walker, WTSU Foundation, Box 656, Canyon, Texas 79016.

CHS Graduates Publish Poems

Two former Canyon High School students now attending West Texas State University have had their poems published in a national French scholastic magazine.

WTSU freshmen Linda Youssi and Jerri Sisk, both 1973 graduates of CHS, have poems featured in the January issue of LaVie, a French language periodical published in America.

The students wrote the selections last year while taking French classes at CHS under Mary Jane Reeves, French instructor at the school.

Miss Sisk's poem is entitled "La Peine de la Beaute ("The Pain of Beauty"), and Miss Youssi's selection is entitled "Pour Etienne" ("For Stephen").

Eagles To Sponsor Parents' Night

The Canyon Eagles will sponsor Parent Appreciation Night during their Friday night outing against the Muleshoe Mules in the CHS gym.

Game time is 8 p.m.

Coach B.B. Kendrick said parents of varsity basketball players will be honored during a half-time ceremony as mothers are presented corsages.

by resolution of the governing body as provided by law. No charter or ordinance shall be inconsistent with the Constitution or laws of the state."

Paragraph (b) provides the counties can make ordinances without passage of a home-rule charter. It says: "The qualified voters of a county without a charter may be a majority of those voting on the question grant the county governing body the power to enact ordinances as authorized by law."

Two other paragraphs in the proposed document limit the ordinance-making power of the counties.

One says if a county ordinance conflicts with an ordinance of an incorporated city or town, the ordinance of the municipality has jurisdiction.

The other says neither county ordinances or charters will affect the jurisdiction or venue of the courts of the state judiciary.

State Constitution Eyed In Course

Canyon residents will have a chance to gain first-hand knowledge of the effort now underway in Austin to revise the Texas constitution through a non-credit course to be offered by West Texas State University.

The course, "Revising the Texas Constitution: Proposals, Problems and Prospects," will be offered from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturdays for 10 weeks beginning Jan. 26.

Registration will be at 10 a.m. Jan. 26 in room 101 of the university complex south on campus. Enrollment is open to anyone for $10 fee. No previous college work is necessary.

Dr. Travis McBride of the political science department said the faculty of the department will teach the course.

The course "is especially designed for laymen who lack expertise in state government matters as well as for those who desire more information about the current movement in Texas to change the basic law," he said.

The faculty will receive regular reports from Austin to update their Saturday sessions to remain current with events in Austin on the revision process.

The present constitutional provisions will be eyed along with proposed changes.

A panel discussion of community political leaders will conclude the course on March 21.

A section of the course will also be offered in Amarillo on Thursday evenings.

Dumas Defeated In Eagles' District Debut

The Canyon Eagles, sporting a 14-11 record, took home their first district win of the season against their first district foe Tuesday night with a 69-62 victory over the Dumas Demons.

The Eagles of Coach B.B. Kendrick led throughout the match as they humbled the Demons, considered one of the better district teams.

Ed Lair, Wayne Pitt and Lynn Wright got into the double figures for the Eagles with Lair hitting 20, Pitt hitting 19 and Wright hitting 18 for the winners.

Leading rebounder was Canyon's Andy Cooper with nine.

Canyon took an early lead and at the end of the first quarter of play had the Demons at a 20-16 disadvantage. At the half, the Eagles led 39-30.

At the end of the third quarter, the margin was narrowed even more with Canyon ahead 57-41.

But, for the first four minutes of the final stanza Dumas controlled the ball and moved to within four points of Canyon. The Eagles rallied and won the game with a seven-point spread.

"It was the best game we've played all season," Coach Kendrick said. "I feel like the key to the district was that ballgame. We haven't been able to play well for the big games, but that was an outstanding game last night."

Dumas dropped to 0-2 for the season having already been downed by district favorite Levelland.

The Eagles play another district foe at 8 p.m. Friday in Canyon when they take on the Muleshoe Mules in varsity action. The junior varsity plays at 5 p.m. at the CHS gym.

The Eagles must also play Dumas again later in the season.

furnished houses or apartments to rent for the term.

Black handles literally hundreds of requests for information and help from all over the country just before a WTSU term begins.

While Black said it's been the first term he's had requests from Amarilloans for local housing, he said the number of requests for housing information from students outside the region has slackened this semester.

Not as many requests have been filed as in previous semesters, he said.

Part of the decrease in interest is normal for a spring term, he said.

Black said housing remains tight in the city and he said he's not often much help to students seeking housing.

For students seeking an apartment, Black gives them a list of available apartments.

For students seeking homes, Black can only depend on called-in vacancies he receives.

Black said several apartment vacancies are still available in the city.

But, he has only one house listed as available and he's not sure it hasn't been rented.

Courses. . .

offered courses in South America, Africa, Southeast Asia, the Middle East and Russia.

Even courses in Latin America, McBride says, are not drawing well.

"I don't know how to explain it," he said. "At the same time courses dealing with state and local government, and criminal justice have had increased enrollments. Advanced enrollment is increasing but in only those areas."

McBride said the university department's plight is similar to the plight of similar programs in other universities across the country. Discussions with government department chairmen at other universities has shown their courses in international relations are also losing enrollment.

McBride says the mood of Americans toward foreign affairs has something to do with the lack of interest in courses dealing with foreign countries.

"The whole international situation is not as glamorous," he said. "And, the United States is not as involved as it was 5 to 10 years ago."

Dr. Roy Thoman, who has in the past taught many of the international relations courses at the university, said many students are moving from studies in specific areas to studies of general political theory.

He also said the decline in interest might be explained by a reaction to American involvement in the Vietnam War and a deeper concern with domestic problems.

Another significant development has been a decline in Army ROTC enrollment. Thoman said many of the students who in past years took international relations courses were also ROTC students.

Dr. Duane Guy, chairman of the WTSU history department, said the trend to declining enrollments in courses about foreign countries has not to a major degree affected his department's offerings.

Historically, Guy said, Americans go through a period of isolationism following the end of a major war. With the end of the Vietnam conflict, that isolationism effect may be making itself felt now and may be manifest in the declining interest in foreign affairs courses.

vigil over the dead horse.

Canabus leaves the horse only once a day. About six every evening, he returns to the farmhouse for his daily feeding, and then goes back to his mournful watch.

Young Burrus said that the dog even spends every night in the field with the horse's body. The vigil was not interrupted by the recent snow and ice storms.

The dog is friendly to anyone approaching, but cannot be coaxed too far from the mare's carcass.

The dog, horse friendship is a rare one, which may have grown out of the loneliness of the old mare.

How long the mournful watch will last cannot be said, but the vigil of Canabus continues, more than a month after the death of the mare.

Loudder feels the 2.96 figure may be fairly accurate but he's cautious in saying Canyon's population is past the 10,000 mark.

"Our median age level in Canyon has been somewhat lower than some other towns and that indicates more young families with usually a few more children," he said. "It could be close but I feel like it's a little high."

Loudder acknowledges that Canyon has grown by a tremendous amount through 1973 as housing construction reached a peak. Sixty-nine new houses were begun during the year, a record.

The Amarillo committee, which includes representatives from the City of Amarillo, City of Canyon, the chamber of commerce, the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, the Texas Highway Department and all the utility companies, began meeting two years ago to help project population for the Amarillo metropolitan area.

During the past two years, he said, local officials have been working on an accurate residence count.

Besides the residence count, the committee derives information on city water hookups, electrical hookups and other factors to mathematically set one side of a formula.

The other half of the formula must come from determining how many persons on the average live in each household in the city.

Loudder said figures for Canyon indicate there are 2275 occupied residences in the city. There are 608 apartment units in the city and 160 mobile home units.

While Loudder feels this year's projection may be off slightly, he feels the projection of the 1973 population at 8700 was accurate to within 1 to 2 per cent.

of the iceberg.

Before Dowlen will accept a hot check charge from a merchant, the merchant must have written a registered letter to the check writer asking payment.

If that letter fails, the district attorney's office writes another letter.

Dowlen said about 50 per cent of those persons who write hot checks pay the checks before charges are filed.

The district attorney said he expects to change his office procedure to begin sending out form letters rather than personal letters to hot check writers to keep up with the volume.

Weather Causes Power Problems

By MARY NEAL HENRY

WE WERE MOST pleased to see the sunshine last Sunday. The ice and sleet began to fall on Wednesday of last week and lasted until Sunday morning. Saturday, the electricity began to blink. Then it went out for several intervals — some of them rather long. I called the company and they even called me late Saturday afternoon to check and see if my electricity was on. I was most appreciative. You feel rather helpless living in a total electric home without electricity.

LATE SUNDAY AFTERNOON, the telephone went half out of order. We could receive incoming calls but could not call out. J.J. Lane reported our telephone for us just about dark Saturday and the operator told him that it would be fixed immediately. We both got a chuckle out of that one. But then I didn't expect it to be fixed immediately. I did want to be on the list.

I DIDN'T FEEL as sorry for myself as I did those poor cold employees of the light and phone companies out there in the weather trying to repair all our difficulties. One line just east of Happy broke under the weight of the ice. We were beginning to dread a repeat performance of 1972. I really was thankful to see the sun on Sunday morning. We will never forget Halloween in 1972. Mother Nature was really playing "Trick or Treat."

THE FAT STOCK Shows always seem to bring on cold weather. One of the two coldest experiences in my life was at a Fat Stock Show. And the weather that year was just like this one's. Last year's weather was also snow and ice for the Happy Fat Stock Show, but there was no wind. That made the weather seem less cold than it might have been.

KYLE ODOM WON the Grand Champion Lamb and Russell Bowman won Reserve Champion Lamb.

TIM MOUDY WON Grand Champion Swine. Jim Bob Sims won reserve champion.

KYLE TODD WON Grand champion steer. Eddie Joe Pearson won reserve champion.

BILL LUKER WON the best First Year Showmanship. Kyle Todd won the showmanship award for steers; Jay McCarley was the top swine showman; and Mike Todd won showmanship award in Sheep division.

SHARLA MILLER WON fifth in the class of heavy weight crossbreed swine.

MIKE WATSON WON the Reserve Champion Steer of the Canyon Junior Livestock Show with his Hereford steer. Mike also won first with that steer in his class, second in the light weight Charolais and first with teams. Mike's Hampshire sheep won third and his Southdown Cross won thirteenth.

ANDY HAND WON Reserve Champion Hampshire Swine. Andy won second with that pig and second with a middle weight duroc.

TERRY MCDONALD WON third in heavy weight duroc.

STEPHEN HAWTHORNE WON third with his crossbred pig and fourth with his Hampshire.

ANDY RAHLFS WON first and second with light weight durocs. Terry McDonald helped Andy show his pigs.

HAPPY COWBELLES MET on Wednesday morning of last week with Mrs. Lonnie Todd, with Mrs. Henry Hamblen and Mrs. C.D. Taylor as co-hostesses. Cake and coffee and spiced tea were served to Vivian Woods, Mary Jane Miller, Pat Hargrave, Nora Taylor, Bernice Hamblen, Mary Neal Henry, Leona McFarland, Mary Wilhelm, Vera Eubanks, Othella McGehee, Delores Wilhelm, Carolyn Dietz, Myra Nell Culp, and the hostess, LaNelle Todd.

VIVIAN WOODS CALLED the meeting to order. Delores Wilhelm read the minutes of the previous meeting. Happy CowBelles have forty-four paid members. (You others get your dues paid!)

THE GREAT MARGIN of live beef and retail beef was discussed. The decision was made to write to those who might help do something about making retailers lower their prices also when the cost of beef goes down.

LANELLE TODD WAS appointed chairman of the committee to hold a scrapbook workshop conducted by the Happy CowBelles at the Mid-Year meeting in San Antonio in April. They will set up the workshop, display and rules. They will work with Mrs. Harry Zavisch, Jr., the State Historian of Tilden.

PAT HARGRAVE PRESENTED a program on beef and false packaging.

HAPPY COWBELLES'S NEXT meeting will be a Valentine party for their husbands on February 9, 1974.

WEDNESDAY EVENING WHEN the OES School of Instruction began in Canyon, we were wondering if the officials would even make it. Some were in Childress. Others were in Plainview. And Happy stayed home and later found out that we had missed the time of our lives.

THERE WAS A good group on hand for the opening of the school on Wednesday evening. Canyon really rolled out the red carpet for our Worthy Grand Matron, Thelma Joyce Alsup, of Houston. Judge Woody Pond made her an Honorary County Judge. Sheriff Cliff Longest made her an Honorary Deputy. Since Thelma Joyce works with the Sheriff's department in Houston and is better known there as T.J., this all meant a great deal more to her than it might have.

A SALAD SUPPER at the Canyon Masonic Hall opened festivities at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday. The school opened at 7:30 and then everyone went to the beautiful country home of Cortez and Glenn Dowlen and ate again after chapter. They enjoyed the fireplace and food indoors on a night that was so icy and cold outside. Cortez said there must have been about forty-four (was counting the plates).

ALLEENE LEAKE, CO-CHAIRMAN of the school, fed the group breakfast on Thursday morning before another session of the school.

HAPPY BRAVED THOSE icy roads on Wednesday morning to attend all that day's sessions. Evelyn Shipman, Worthy Matron of Happy OES Chapter, Evelyn Dowd, Ruth Sims, Gladys Haley, Pauline Wesley, Ann and Sam Williams and myself attended on Wednesday.

THE LUNCHEON, ORIGINALLY scheduled to be held in Canyon's Community Center, was held in the dining hall of the Masonic Hall. That way we didn't have to go outside at all. Kentucky Fried Chicken catered the lunch and it was delicious.

THE PICTURE IN Sunday's edition was taken at the luncheon. Dignitaries included, Thelma Joyce Alsup, Worthy Grand Matron; Cortez Dowlen, Grand Organist; Dorothy Vernon, Grand Examiner of District Two; Beaulah Holiday, Grand Examiner at Large; Allie Mae Lennard, District Deputy Grand Matron, District Two; Sally Teague, Deputy Grand Matron, District Two, Section Three; all of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star. Alleene Leake as Co-Chairman of the school was also included. That Canyon group did such a grand job that it will be very hard to best.

J.T. CARVER, of Amarillo, and his lovely wife, Faye, joined us for the Thursday evening session. J.T. is on the Transportation and Mileage committee. There must have been forty other members of various Grand Chapter committees introduced on Thursday.

THE "SWEETHEART BANQUET" was held at the Yum Yum Tree, on Thursday evening at 5:30. Cortez Dowlen acted as Master of Ceremonies and introduced the dignitaries and announced the program.

A WINTER WONDERLAND Reception for Grand Officers in the dining hall of the Masonic Hall concluded the "White Dove of Winter" school of instruction. And the weather couldn't have been more in tune with the theme. Hot spiced tea and coffee and cookies were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a candelabra of green candles and snow covered greenery atop a reflector.

SEVENTY-SEVEN "A" certificates were given and one "B" certificate. Canyon is the northern most city in our section and several of the towns to the south did not come and participate in the school because of the weather. They missed a good time. The Worthy Matron has fifty of these schools over the state of Texas in a year and because of such a complicated schedule cannot postpone one in any certain section of the state.

CANYON'S WORTHY MATRON, Anna Wright, and Worthy Patron, Billy Mayfield, presided over the Fraternal Visit of the Worthy Grand Matron, on Thursday evening.

ANN SIMS OF Rosebud, New Mexico, was in Canyon on Thursday. She had returned Karen to WTSU for the spring semester. Kim Sims plans to attend Tech. Ann spent the night in Dimmitt with her mother, Dorothy Magness.

THE BOARD OF Directors of the Texas CowBelles met at Tulia on Friday, Jan. 11. Seventeen members represented ten clubs. Six of these were officers. Professional Army Band Due WT Appearance Friday

The Continentals, professional, 20-piece stage band from Fort Sill, Okla. will perform in concert at 7 p.m. Friday in the West Texas State University Activities Center ballroom.

The ensemble, which consists of professional U.S. Army musicians under the direction of Owen Kirby, will appear here under auspices of the Canyon News and Today's Army Good Guys, representatives of the U.S. Army Recruiting office in Amarillo.

In conjunction with their performance here, the band and its director will be auditioning male and female musicians interested in performing with the ensemble while doing military duty in the armed forces.

Young persons interested in trying out for the band are asked to meet with Kirby following the concert on Friday, said a spokesman for the Amarillo recruiting office. Only students with advanced musical training need apply, he added.

The Continentals have performed extensively throughout the nation and are currently touring the West Texas area. This week, they have appeared in high schools throughout the Panhandle and have been featured in television performances aired on Lubbock and Abilene stations.

Their repertoire offers "something for everybody," a spokesman said, including selections in country & western, rock, jazz, big band sound, contemporary "soul", musical comedy and traditional stage band favorites.

The concert is free to the public.

WTSU Runners Open Indoor Schedule

West Texas State University's track team opens its 1974 indoor season Saturday in Lubbock at the Lubbock Christian College Invitational.

Coach Bob Kitchens' Buffaloes will compete in the 1 p.m. meet against LCC, Texas Tech, Wayland Baptist College, Abilene Christian College and Panhandle State.

Leading the Buffalo team will be seniors Dennis Briggs of Seminole and Carl Brown of Van Vleck. Briggs is the defending Missouri Valley Conference outdoor shot put champion. He put the shot 53-9 last spring and was the high point man in the MVC outdoor championships.

Brown is a three-time MVC indoor hurdle champion. He holds the MVC records for both the 50-yard high hurdles and 50-yard intermediate hurdles. The lanky senior will be running the 60-yard high hurdles Saturday. His best time in that event is 7.2.

Juniors George Fuller of Hereford and Gary Six of Hart are solid field event men. Fuller has long jumped 24-2 and Six has a 6-7 effort in the high jump.

Kitchens has a pair of potential standout vaulters in junior college transfer Mike Walker and Odessa freshman Tommy Humphries. Both have 15-0 heights to their credit.

Silverton sophomore Marvin Self will team with Briggs in the shot put. His best toss is 52-8.

Running events in the Lubbock meet will be the 60-yard dash, 60-yard high hurdles, 440, 600, 1,000, mile, two-mile and mile relay. Field events will be shot put, high jump, pole vault and long jump.

The Buffaloes will host a trio of meets in the Activities Center on campus. They host LCC and Wayland Feb. 8 in their home opener. The University of Texas at Arlington and New Mexico State will be here Feb. 8 and Oklahoma State will duel the Buffs Feb. 16. All home meets start at 6:45 p.m. with the field events and running events starting at 7:30.

Admission at the gate for each of the three home meets is $2 for adults and $1 for students. West Texas State students will be admitted free with their activity cards.

Advance tickets, good for any one of the three home meets, are on sale at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Feedlot Course Seen By Rotary

Canyon High School's feedlot management, a virtual pioneer in the field in Texas, was outlined for Canyon Rotarians and their guests, area farmers, at noon Tuesday.

Jim Walker, agriculture teacher at CHS, told Rotarians the feedlot management program now has 12 students, students selected from nearly 30 applicants.

While the program emphasizes the feedlot aspect of agriculture, it also hits on generalities of the livestock industry, Walker said.

Electrical Power Out For Rurals

Randall County rural residents to the north, east and west of Canyon were without electricity at intervals during the day Saturday.

Joe Gidden, manager for Southwestern Public Service Co. in Canyon, said accumulations of ice on electrical wires to those rural areas caused wind buffeting and shorted the wires, blowing fuses throughout the day.

Most affected was the Sunday Canyon area near Palo Duro Canyon State Park where electricity was out most of the day.

Gidden said at most only about 200 residents were affected by the blown fuses at any one time. He said the outages were intermittent throughout the day.

Winter Comes To The Canyon

By MILDRED TURNER

MR. WINTER DELAYED his coming this year but when he did get here, he made a grand appearance! We have enjoyed the picturesque crystal scenes, sitting around the fireside with family and neighbors, weiner roasts and ice skating on the frozen creek with McDonalds, Webbs, hiking with the Vaughns and Pennys, but one thing I did not enjoy was when I tried to venture out of this canyon! I kept sliding or spinning and after Mr. Guess and Judy Webb finally got me out of two tight places I came home to stay until the spring thaw!

LAST SATURDAY OUR electricity kept failing and I finally got a roast cooked by night. After our hike the Vaughns (who cook with gas) invited us over for stew, homemade hot rolls, hot apple pie, and cold bread pudding, and hot spiced tea. In the evening we played skip bow with Pearl Vaughn, Jana and Stacy Penny (J. and S. spending the night) at our house. We had to play by lamp and candle light as the electricity was off again. After taking our exercises, we were in the middle of a talent show when the lights came on and spoiled it (as the girls had to watch a western).

I TALKED TO Peggy Oliver during the "blackout" and they were making popcorn balls by candle light. How romantic!

HAPPY BELATED BIRTHDAYS to Judy Detten on the 15th, Sheree Turner on the 17th, and Sara Bowie on the 18th.

WE APPRECIATE THE work the men are doing on the roads.

I HEARD THE Webbs, McDonalds and Boothes had a gala time ice skating and roasting weiners on the camp fire on a Sunday afternoon recently. I noticed this canyon was really buzzing last Sunday with the warm sunshine everyone was out doing his own thing in the afternoon. However, in the morning it was still quite icy as some walked to church, some got stuck and I slid into my car hurting my knee slightly (better than the car sliding into me!).

THE HANDSOME FELLOW sitting next to the Paul Asleys (in church Sunday morning) was Craig McGahey, home from college for the weekend.

ON MONDAY NIGHT Janet, Sheree and I attended a skating party given by the young people. The youngest person skating was fifteen months old and the oldest was my age. (You guessed it!) We had such a good time. The spectators were all so friendly and kept waving at me. Finally I realized I was waving both arms so I was more friendly! I just don't get enough practice to be graceful. About a hundred people attended.

JUST A WORD of caution concerning ice skating: do not go skating alone, have an adult check out the ice to see that you won't fall in. It doesn't look dangerous but can be. We skated down east of the McGaheys a little, where the water is not deep. Take plenty of hot chocolate, coffee, weiners, bread, marshmallows, and your sled. Build up a fire and spend the afternoon. This is one of the best ways to get rid of the blahs!

I PRESUME SOME of you froze up during the cold spell but now that we are having some sunshine give me a call — 622-0701. — M.T.

Tumbling down the tumbleweed-decked halls of Canyon High School this week were students celebrating Spirit Week at the school. Each class was assigned a hall to decorate for the event which culminates with a basketball game against Muleshoe on Friday evening. The main hall of CHS, above, reflected the spirit of the Old West and represented the senior class effort during Spirit Week.

First Christian Votes On Preacher

The congregation of the First Christian Church voted Sunday to hire a new preacher and to enter into agreement with another local church for a church building.

The congregation hired Terry White, who just recently left graduate studies at Duke University in South Carolina. White, who will report around Feb. 1 for the job, has been associate pastor at two churches and pastored another church. He is a native of Louisiana and received his degree from a Texas university.

He will replace interim pastor the Rev. Ross Allen.

The congregation also voted to enter into agreement with the Central Church of Christ to acquire that church's property on 4th Avenue in Canyon.

The property is to become available when the Central Church of Christ has completed construction of a new church in east Canyon.

UMBARGER NEWS

Fund Set For Family

By REBA RAEF

ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON, Joe and Linda Miller and children lost their home in a fire. The trailer in which they lived was completely destroyed, while they were gone. They have two boys, ages six and four and a girl, aged two. A fund for the Millers has been set up at The First National Bank in Canyon and you may take your donation there. Also, St. Mary's Altar Society is having a canned food drive for them. The food may be brought to the church, where a box has been placed for the food, or you may leave it at our store, if that is more convenient for you. The Catholic Youth Organization is having a toy drive for the children and members are asked to give your toys to Wade Wilhelm not later than Thursday, January 24.

ONE OF UMBARGER'S elderly residents suffered a fall on the ice last Friday and broke his hip. Seventy-five year old Joe Stuckstette was walking to his pickup and fell right beside it, but he managed to get into the pickup and drive to Umbarger for help. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken to Neblett Hospital, where he was treated and then sent on to Northwest Texas Hospital, in Amarillo. We wish Joe a speedy recovery.

MRS. FRANCES GROTEGUT is still a patient in St. Anthony's Hospital, in Amarillo. We hope that Frances will soon be able to return home.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS TO all the Umbarger 4-H club members who took part in the Randall County livestock show last week. Ralph Gonzales showed the reserve breed Poland China. Gerald Wilhelm took first in the Durocs. Wade Wilhelm took second in the cross breed, also fifth in the Duroc. Danny Wilhelm was fifth in the Hampshire and the herdsman trophy was given to Wade Wilhelm. All of the herdsman trophies were donated by Walter Cramner. Judy Wilhelm took sixth in the light Durocs and Edwin Wilhelm took sixth in the medium Durocs. Dwayne and Floyd Hartman showed steers. There were seven youngsters who showed sheep, but did not place. We are sure that they all put much effort and a lot of time into getting the animals ready for the show, so we congratulate them also.

THE NEXT MEETING of the Umbarger 4-H club will be Monday night, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the Columbus Club Hall.

THE C.Y.O. IS sponsoring a dance in St. Mary's Parish Hall, on Saturday evening, January 19, from 9 p.m. till 1:00 a.m. Music will be by the Stray Lees, from Hereford, and admission will be $1.75 per person. The C.Y.O. is also planning a bake sale, to be held early in February.

AT THE REGULAR meeting of St. Mary's Altar Society and Christian Mothers, three new members were enrolled in the Christian Mothers by Father Bertin Roll, National Director of the Confraternity of Christian Mothers. Mesdames L.J. Wieck and Tom Sanford and Miss Gertrude Friemel are the new members. Father Roll emphasized that the prime purpose of the Christian Mothers, is to pray not only for their own children but for all children everywhere. He also stressed the need for mothers to set a good Christian example. One point in his talk that seems timely, is that when we attend a dirty movie, we are financing the next dirty movie.

IN THE BUSINESS session, members set the date for the chili supper and Bingo party, to be held February 10, in St. Mary's parish hall. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mesdames Jack Brandt, A.R. Friemel and R.D. Friemel.

A BELATED HAPPY birthday to our grandson, Larry Hartman, who celebrated his 13th birthday last Tuesday, Jan. 15. We, along with the Andy Raef's, had supper and birthday cake with the Hartmans. We wish a happy birthday to our Kevin, who will celebrate his birthday on Sunday, Jan. 20.

County Clerk Hutton To Seek Re-election

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton announced Wednesday he will seek re-election to a third term.

Hutton, a Republican, was the first GOP county clerk elected in Texas since Reconstruction when he first made the post in 1966. He is still the only Republican county clerk in Texas.

"If re-elected, I will continue to update the office practices and procedures to hold down costs," Hutton said. "I plan to begin recording on microfilm in 1975."

As county clerk, Hutton is county recorder of all real and personal property records, clerk of the county court and clerk of the county commissioners court.

He is also chief election official in the county and was instrumental in the county's move to computer punch-card voting several years ago.

Since that time, Hutton has been acknowledged as an expert in punch-card type voting and acted as consultant to Bexar County during their elections last fall. Randall County was one of the first counties in the country to move to punch-card voting.

A native of Donley County, Hutton moved to Randall County in 1932. He is a graduate of Canyon High School and attended West Texas State University.

He received a bachelor's degree from Iowa State University in 1953.

Hutton, 45, lives in McMurtry Acres south of Amarillo.

He is a member of the Texas County and District Clerk Association and serves on the association's committees. He is commander of the Canyon VFW post and is a member of the Amarillo Genealogical Society, the Panhandle Historical Society, the County Historical Survey Committee, and the Panhandle-Plains Sons of the American Revolution.

First National Bank Staff Members Promoted

First National Bank this week announced promotion of five staff members.

On the promotion list were Larry Hooper, Jody Magness, Edith Nicholas, Linda Bourn and Chloe Ann Black.

Hooper was promoted from assistant vice president to vice president. He handles installment loans and interim notes on building.

Larry is a graduate of West Texas State University where he received a degree in business administration.

He has lived in Canyon 12 years and was employed by the Davis Agency for 9½ years of that time. There he handled real estate and general insurance.

He went to First National in October of 1972. He has been active in the Lions Club and Chamber of Commerce work. He and Mrs. Hooper have two children, Holly, 10; and Quinton, 4.

Mrs. Magness, a native of Happy and graduate of Happy High School, was employed by the bank in 1959.

She was promoted to the post of assistant cashier.

Miss Black was promoted from cashier to vice president and assistant cashier. She is a native of Canyon and a niece of Bill Black, pioneer Canyon banker.

Chloe Ann has been with the bank since 1951. She became assistant cashier in 1955 and held that position until 1969 when she became cashier.

She is a graduate of Canyon High School and attended WTSU.

Mrs. Nicholas began her banking career in 1952 with the First National Bank there. She served as supervisor of the proof and transit department and in the teller division.

In 1966 she joined the note department of First National Bank in Canyon. She currently is heading up that department and was named assistant cashier recently by the board of directors. She and her husband, Dean, live at 3304 Conner Drive.

She is a graduate of Stephenville High School and attended WTSU.

A native of Childress, Mrs. Bourn grew up in Canyon. She has recently been named assistant cashier for First National Bank.

She came to the bank in 1963 and worked in the bookkeeping department. She was promoted to teller in 1965. She became loan secretary in 1967 and moved to the note department in 1969.

When the savings department was established in 1971, Mrs. Bourn served as its manager, a position she still holds.

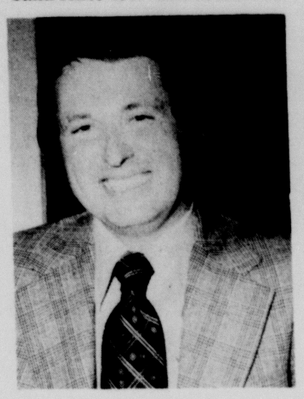

Her husband, Wes, is with Consumers Fuel & Elevator Assn. here. The Bourns have three children ranging in ages from 8 to 4.
